

LOCAL FEAST or LOCAL FAMINE?

A presentation on Food Security by

MARK THURSTAIN-GOODWIN

of Geofutures

at

UNITED REFORMED CHURCH ROOMS

(Grove St. Entrance)

BA2 6PJ

on

August 6th at 7.30pm

Can existing UK farmland keep us fed, clothed and housed?

A recent study says yes, for the UK as a whole

In this workshop, geographic information expert Mark Thurstain-Goodwin of Geofutures will use powerful data and mapping technology to zoom in to the local scale – and discover that England on its own sees a shortfall leaving 9 million people hungry, with even more marked disparities between smaller regions

The analysis makes clear that there are solutions at hand, but also signposts how climate change and flood risks need to be central to our plans

Tea/coffee and cakes and time for discussion afterwards

www.transitionbath.org.uk

transitionbath@googlemail.com